And on that farm there were
some chooks..”

You might think that farm animals in Australia are free to roam but the reality is quite different.

Lawyers for Animals Inc is a volunteer-based organisation that seeks to improve the welfare of animals through education and law. Our activities include: communicating with politicians and making submissions on Acts, Regulations, Codes of Practice and other laws and policies affecting animals; assisting other animal welfare groups with their work; developing educational materials; publishing articles; and promoting awareness of animal suffering through public-speaking and other events.
